Investment Manager's Report

It's fair to say the past six months have been more than a little frustrating and a little disorientating. Frustrating in that China's perhaps over-anticipated recovery from COVID lockdown didn't materialize while geopolitics remained a cloud over investing in the country. Disorientating in that the forces behind inflation seemed to be dissipating but central banks toward the end of the last quarter seemed to view the Federal Reserve's 'higher for longer' posture as just the tonic for the global economy. China's odyssey and the Fed's strategy were something of a brake on our markets while U.S. equities supported by a small subset of tech companies powered ahead.

From April onward through the summer, the pace and size of Fed rate increases seemed to be the drivers of short-term sentiment in emerging markets while U.S.-China politics seemed to determine the longer-term mood. Underneath it all, Asia and emerging markets, particularly China, struggled to produce earnings growth that their economic growth deserved.

If we look at interest rates and inflation, regardless of what the Fed does we believe many markets are in positions of strength. Some Latin American markets, including Brazil, have been ahead of the Fed in their macro management and have already started to cut rates. In Asia, inflation has been much less of an issue and countries like Indonesia and India have done a lot to tame exposure to international rate cycles. In China there is no inflation. If anything, inflation seems too low in our view.

On geopolitics, post 'balloon-gate', the U.S. continued to take measures to limit China's global access to advanced chip technology but generally tensions between the two countries subsided thanks in part to a series of visits to China by high-profile U.S. government officials. However, as we have been at pains to point out there seems little reason to expect things to improve any time soon. Elsewhere, the Ukraine War and the reignition of the Israel-Palestine conflict may potentially be significant sources of instability in world markets.

China's challenges

As for China and its economic challenges, the story over the past few months has been one of underwhelming economic recovery, poor consumer confidence and the re-emergence of woes in its real estate sector. The trick for China is to get incomes (and with it consumer demand) onto a sustainably rising trend, at least in line with nominal GDP growth. The private sector is key as it holds in its hands the fate of the vast majority of the country's urban employment. On real estate, China has yet to inject a game-changing move to try and turn around the sector but the cadence of initiatives so far, such as a relaxation of some mortgage rules, at least seem to indicate the government is keen to right the ship.

While the past six months have often been about coming to terms with a slow recovery in China, opportunities emerged elsewhere in our markets, particularly in Japan and India, while South Korea and Taiwan had a strong June-end quarter thanks to selective growth in the semiconductor industry and global excitement over artificial intelligence (Al). In Japan, equity markets have been buoyed by solid earnings, a weak yen and a much-anticipated return of inflationary growth. Corporate policy reform prompted an increase in share buybacks and dividend payout ratios and this also played a big part in generating global investor interest. India has performed well on the back of strong net equity inflows, which have been encouraged by its robust economic growth and as domestic households increasingly shift more of their savings and investments into equities. Economic growth has been driven by a combination of infrastructural development and manufacturing activity and by the country's appeal as an alternative or additional hub to China for multinational companies.

As the September quarter came to a close, a global risk-off mindset took hold and markets just about everywhere started to sell off. While it seemed that over the last couple of years the Fed had seemingly achieved the impossible and brought inflation back down without causing a recession, long-term bond yields were starting to rise. Whatever the current inflation data seemed to suggest, the bond market wasn't believing it.

Higher for longer

In my view there was one reason for this. Bond markets were turning a blind eye to economic indicators and instead taking their cue from the Fed's 'higher for longer' mantra which other western central banks also concurred with. They seem signed up to conventional economics theory which tells them that to cure inflation you need a recession. It probably misses the point that there has been nothing conventional about the global economy post-COVID. But if central banks are united in the belief that a recession is required then a recession is what we will likely have. It's just a question of when. China, on the other hand, seems to believe that the best way to avoid a future slowdown (from overstimulation of an economy that then requires jamming on the brakes) is to let the economy trundle on at sub-potential rates of growth for the foreseeable future.

Higher rates for longer and a sub-par China aren't generally good for emerging markets in our view. The natural response to this environment is for people to continue to focus their investments at home and increasingly so in fixed income not equity. The underperformers over the past quarter in our major markets have ranged from those vulnerable to cyclical economic pressures, like Thailand, to those where interest rate changes and economic slowdown create liquidity squeezes. Hong Kong is probably the poster child for this. Only India seemed to march on unnerved by the economic and political climate.

For the now, the only positive news for emerging markets as a whole seems to be valuations. Dividend yield, the most mean-reverting of index valuation metrics in my view, reached a level of 2.4% for emerging markets and 2.3% for Asia in the quarter—levels which have been typically indicative of long-term value and shorter-run rallies. On the corporate side, as I look at aggregate earnings quality measures globally, I'm not yet seeing signs of distress from elevated rates outside of markets like Turkey and Argentina. Incrementally, there are some signs of deteriorating earnings quality, however, again, these tend to be in peripheral markets. Our main markets of China, India and Japan seem quite stable from this point of view.

My concern is not that inflation will surge again but that the monetary authorities will do too much. But there is a silver lining. This current atmosphere is not about anything fundamentally wrong with our economies. It's more about policy, and this policy could be reversed or ameliorated with just a few words or a change of tone. Not only would that be, in my view, the correct economic decision but it would also be favorable for markets.

In recent times, the bigger macro picture has determined to large degrees the trajectory of many equity markets regardless of the performance of their companies but I suspect the sharp style cycles we have seen will dampen down. Ultimately, investing in global markets is all down to finding companies. In China, Asia and emerging markets generally, it has been a trial for quality growth stock picking. But we believe there are still many good companies to be found. And it is quality growth that is shared across all we do. The core of our approach is about finding good businesses with sensible management where we can be comfortable with the valuation we are paying.

The financial statements are prepared in accordance with Luxembourg law and regulations relating to UCITS and generally accepted accounting principles in Luxembourg.

B) COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Combined Financial Statements equal the sum of the financial statements of all Sub-Funds.

The Fund's equity securities are valued based on market quotations or at fair value as determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Board of Directors of the Fund when no market quotations are available or when market quotations have become unreliable.

Market values for equity securities are determined based on the last sale price on the principal (or most advantageous) market on which the security is traded. If a reliable last sale price is not available, market values for equity securities are determined using the mean between the last available bid and ask price. Securities are valued through valuations obtained from a commercial pricing service or at the most recent mean of the bid and ask prices provided by investment dealers in accordance with the Fund's Pricing Policies.

Securities that trade in over-the-counter markets, including most debt securities (bonds), may be valued by other thirdparty vendors or by using indicative bid quotations from dealers or market makers, or other available market information.

Events affecting the value of foreign investments may occur between the time at which they are determined and the Fund's valuation point of 2:00 p.m. Luxembourg time. When such events occur, each Sub-Fund may apply a model-derived factor, as provided by an independent pricing service, to the closing price of equity securities traded on foreign securities exchanges. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Fund may determine not to fair value securities where it believes that the impact of doing so would not have a material impact on the calculation of a Sub-Fund's NAV on that day.

The Board of Directors of the Fund has delegated the fair value analysis and assessment to the Investment Manager's Valuation Committee (the "Valuation Committee"), subject to the Fund's Pricing and Valuation Policy and Procedures (the "Pricing Policies"). The Fund has retained third-party pricing services that may be utilized by the Valuation Committee under circumstances described in the Pricing Policies to provide fair value prices for certain securities held by the Fund. To propose the fair value price of the suspended securities, the Valuation Committee may use techniques such as analysis of the price movements of selected proxies / indices whose performance might indicate valuation changes of the suspended securities.

When fair value pricing is used, the prices of securities used by a Sub-Fund to calculate its Net Asset Value differ from quoted or published prices for the same securities for that day. All fair value determinations are made subject to the Board of Directors of the Fund's oversight.

D) NET REALIZED GAIN/(LOSS) ON SALES OF INVESTMENTS AND CHANGE IN UNREALIZED GAIN/(LOSS) ON INVESTMENTS

Net realized gain or loss on sales of investments are calculated on the basis of first in first out cost method of the investments sold. At period end, holdings in securities have been valued at their last available prices on the main market for the relevant security. The net realized gain or loss and net change in unrealized gain or loss are included within the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets.

E) FORWARD CURRENCY EXCHANGE CONTRACTS

A forward currency exchange contract is an agreement to buy or sell a specific amount of foreign currency at a certain rate, on or before a certain date. Outstanding forward currency exchange contracts are valued at forward market rates for the remaining period from valuation date to the maturity of the contracts.

Forward foreign exchange contracts will be valued by reference to the price at which a new forward contract of the same size and maturity could be undertaken.

The unrealized gain and loss are shown in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities under "Unrealized gain on forward currency exchange contracts" and "Unrealized loss on forward currency exchange contracts."

As at 30 September 2023

E) FORWARD CURRENCY EXCHANGE CONTRACTS (continued)

Net realized gain/(loss) and net change in unrealized gain/(loss) as a result thereof are included in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets under "Net realized gain/(loss) on forward currency exchange contracts" and "Net change in unrealized gain/(loss) on forward currency exchange contracts," respectively.

F) CONVERSION OF FOREIGN CURRENCIES

The books and records of the Fund are maintained in USD.

Transactions denominated in foreign currencies are recorded at the current prevailing exchange rates on the transaction date. All assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into USD at the exchange rate as at 30 September 2023.

Conversion gains or losses resulting from changes in the exchange rate during the period and realized gains and losses on the settlement of foreign currency transactions are reported in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets for the current period.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of gains and losses on investments in equity securities that are due to changes in the foreign exchange rate from those that are due to changes in market prices of equity securities.

The accounting records and the financial statements of each Sub-Fund are expressed in USD.

Bank accounts, other net assets and market value of the investments in securities expressed in currencies other than the currency of a Sub-Fund are converted at the exchange rates prevailing on the date of the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Income and expenses in currencies other than the currency of a Sub-Fund are converted at the rate of exchange prevailing at the transaction date.

Net realized gain and loss on foreign exchanges and net change in unrealized gain and loss on foreign exchanges represent: (i) foreign exchange gains and losses from the sale and holding of foreign currencies; (ii) gains and losses between trade date and settlement date on securities transactions and (iii) gains and losses arising from the difference between amounts of dividends and interest recorded and the amounts actually received.

G) COST OF INVESTMENTS IN SECURITIES

Cost of investments in securities in currencies other than the currency of a Sub-Fund is converted into the Sub-Fund's currency at the exchange rate applicable at purchase date. Cost of Investments is calculated using first in first out method.

H) INCOME

Interest income is accrued on a daily basis and may include the amortization of premiums and accretions of discounts. Bank and time deposits interest income are recognized on an accrual basis.

Dividends are credited to income on the date upon which the relevant securities are first listed as 'ex dividend' provided that the amount of a dividend is known with reasonable certainty.

I) FEE WAIVER

The Investment Manager may, for such time as it considers appropriate, choose to waive all or part of the fees that it is entitled to receive, or to reimburse a Sub-Fund for other expenses, in order to reduce the impact such fees and expenses may have on the performance of the Share Class. The Investment Manager will reimburse on a monthly basis the amount of the fee waiver or expense reimbursement to the respective Sub-Fund. Fees that have been previously waived and expenses that have been previously reimbursed may be recovered by the Investment Manager.

The waived fees are settled monthly on a net basis with management and administration fees and therefore they are presented as one line item in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities under "Management fees and administration fees payable."

The amounts of the fees waived for the current period is separately disclosed as "Fees Waived and Expenses Reimbursed" in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets.

J) USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

14. SWING PRICING

The Board of Directors of the Fund implemented a price adjustment policy in order to protect the interests of the Fund's Shareholders. The purpose of the price adjustment policy is to allocate the costs associated with large inflows and outflows to investors transacting that day, thereby protecting the long-term Shareholders from the worst effects of dilution. It achieves this purpose by adjusting the price at which deals in a Sub-Fund are transacted. In other words, Sub-Funds' prices may be adjusted up (when there are large net capital inflows) or down (when there are large net capital outflows) depending on the level and type of investor transactions on a particular day. In this way the existing and remaining Shareholders do not suffer an inappropriate level of dilution. The Fund will only trigger an adjustment in the price when there are net capital flows.

The Board of Directors of the Fund have applied partial swing pricing method for the period. Accordingly, rather than setting a single swing threshold with a single swing factor for each Sub-Fund, the Board of Directors of the Fund has chosen to deploy a more refined approach, with multiple thresholds and multiple factors. The application of swing pricing, the thresholds and factors may vary from Sub-Fund to Sub-Fund. If on any Valuation Day the aggregate transactions in Shares of a Sub-Fund result in a net increase or decrease of Shares which exceeds such threshold preset by the Board of Directors from time to time for that Sub-Fund (relating to the cost of market dealing for that Sub-Fund), the Net Asset Value of the Sub-Fund will be adjusted by an amount not exceeding 2% of that Net Asset Value, which reflects both the estimated fiscal charges and dealing costs that may be incurred by the Sub-Fund and the estimated bid/offer spread of the assets in which the Sub-Fund invests. Once an adjustment is made to the price, that price is the official price for that Sub-Fund for all deals that day.

Effective as of 10 August 2020, the Board of Directors of the Fund determined to only apply an adjustment in the price when there are net capital outflows to a Sub-Fund.

During the period ended 30 September 2023, Asia Dividend Fund, Asia ex Japan Total Return Equity Fund, China Dividend Fund, Asia Innovative Growth Fund, India Fund, Japan Fund and China Small Companies Fund have applied swing pricing.

Upon request, the Fund will also provide investors the impact of swing pricing on a day in which that investor has transacted, with an appropriate lag before such information is provided. Investors should be aware that the Board of Directors of the Fund may change the swing thresholds and swing factors at any time without notice to investors, so the information provided may not be indicative of the impact that swing pricing may have on future transactions in the shares of the Sub-Fund.

A periodic review is undertaken in order to verify the appropriateness of swing factor being applied.
