Investment Manager's Report

It was a volatile six months for emerging markets but it was also a period of strong performance, particularly in Asia.

We saw the waning of an equity rally in China together with momentum in techheavy markets like Taiwan and South Korea as they benefited from earnings growth and favorable investor sentiment in the artificial intelligence (AI) space. Meanwhile, Japan's markets continued to perform as capital efficiency reforms gained traction.

In other regions, there was more volatility. Indian equities posted sharp declines after Prime Minister Modi's party failed to achieve an overall majority in the general election and then recovered when Modi successfully secured a coalition government with allies. In Mexico, Claudia Sheinbaum's strong win was negatively received by investors who worried it may herald an administration with a reformist agenda. As the period wore on, market volatility intensified as concerns grew over the sustainability of the AI boom and a potential slowdown in the U.S. At the end of July, the Bank of Japan (BOJ)'s decision to hike interest rates for the second time this year helped spur a surge in the value of the yen and a global selloff in equities. The market rebounded sharply as the BOJ sought to soothe investor concerns over its macro policy.

In September, we saw two aggressive growth moves in the markets. First, there was the 50-basis point (0.50%) interest-rate cut by the Federal Reserve. We think the U.S. economy is in fairly robust shape and as it returns to a normalized monetary path this could provide a significant catalyst for economic growth and strong performance in emerging markets. The second move was the stimulus package announced by China which contributed to a sharp rally in the nation's stocks in the final weeks of the period. The stimulus included measures such as cutting rates, reducing reserve ratio requirements, efforts to bolster the stock market and multiple initiatives to support the property market. The effectiveness of this stimulus will depend on its execution, we believe, and time will tell how big an impact it has on China's economic recovery.

The moving parts of Asia

Looking more closely at the performance of our markets during the period, Japanese equities initially were driven by large-cap stocks as they responded to regulator demands to reduce capital on their balance sheets and improve shareholder value by increasing dividends and stock buybacks. Then there was the dramatic selloff. Though Japan's economy and export markets are less sensitive to rate and currency moves than in the past, the episode served to illustrate that the macro picture can still drive equity returns in the short term. However, we believe it has left Japanese equities in a good position. They are cheaper than they were before the sell-off, earnings are robust and it remains a market that is under-owned. The recent drivers of returns in Japanese equites—earnings growth, capital market reform and corporate governance changes—are also still intact.

Taiwan's ties to the global semi-conductor supply chain and rapid growth in Al technology became a source of volatility as concerns grew over the high CapEx requirements and growth trajectory of large U.S. tech firms. Meanwhile in South Korea, Japan-style corporate governance is slowly taking hold but there are areas that we are a little cautious on, including autos. We need to be confident that the earnings are continuing to come through and then we can look for attractive opportunities.

Contrasting China and India

In the six months through September, consumer sentiment continued to deteriorate and property prices continued to decline in China. Companies more directly tied to China's domestic economy and the property market face the greater challenges. Earnings growth is struggling to get a footing and valuations are reflecting that. Among the stimulus initiatives announced in September, those aimed at addressing challenges in the property market are the most relevant to supporting an economic recovery, in our view. The sweetening of an initiative announced in May, which made government-backed loans available for local entities to purchase unsold housing inventory, is potentially significant in our view. Take-up of the proposal had been poor but the move to provide 100% of the principal of bank loans for such purchases, up from the earlier announced 60%, we think could make a difference.

We regard India as a long-term structural investment story as the government continues to build out the country's CapEx, infrastructure and transportation and now, under the new coalition, shows signs of broadening its growth agenda. The perennial challenge for investors is the rich valuations of Indian equities. We have to be prepared to pay more for businesses that we believe can grow and accelerate earnings and at the same time be mindful of liquidity and exuberance in pricing.

Rate-sensitive markets

In Southeast Asia, markets were driven by a combination of domestic politics and growth and the external macro environment. In terms of politics, there have been changes in recent years in markets including Indonesia, Malaysia and Vietnam, and generally we would say these changes are adding stability. The region's domestic growth is also coming through. We think this growth can be further fueled by a potential cycle of U.S. rate cuts with the prospect of a weaker U.S. dollar. We view the markets of Vietnam, Malaysia and Indonesia as having the strongest prospects.

Latin American markets tend to be rate-sensitive as well but there are country-level issues. Mexico has lots of potential growth in the long term, in terms of its trade with the U.S. and in financial and consumer segments, but the risk premium continues to be high. Through September, there remained a negative overhang on Mexico's equity markets as concerns persisted about the potential impact of new policies on the private sector. In Brazil, inflation remains the challenge; hence the pressure on interest rates is upward not downward. However, the country has a new central bank governor and we think he will work to restore credibility in the bank and the economy.

What's ahead

For the remainder of the year and beyond, we expect market volatility to continue, particularly as we approach and pass through the U.S. election. It could be that the election is an opportunity to reduce positions in China and add to other areas. Alternatively, valuations in China equities may decline and the market may overreact to the vote outcome, in which case there could be an opportunity to increase exposure.

Over the medium term, we see earnings growth picking up across emerging markets and valuations remaining reasonably cheap. We're also seeing more broader potential in Southeast Asia as well as in South Korea and Taiwan—as the latter two go through a slight de-rating.

We don't think investors should be pre-occupied with timing a recovery or period of upside in emerging markets. Instead, we would advocate the importance of a diversified portfolio. In our view, the earnings growth and stock market returns of emerging markets over the next five years will start to resemble that of the U.S. in recent times. If the performance of the U.S. starts to go below trend in the medium term, we think Asia and emerging markets can fill the gap.

Each Sub-Fund may offer both accumulation ("Acc") and distribution Shares ("Dist"). Unless otherwise provided for in the Fund's Prospectus, in relation to Shares referenced as "Acc" Shares, no distributions will be made and all interests and other income earned by the Sub-Fund will be reflected in the Net Asset Value ("NAV") of such Shares. In relation to Shares referenced as "Dist" Shares, it is the intention of the Board of Directors of the Fund to distribute substantially all the income earned on investments at least annually. All classes belonging to the same Sub-Fund will be commonly invested in adherence with the specific investment objective of the relevant Sub-Fund but may differ with regard to fee structure, minimum subscription amount, dividend policy or other particular features described in the Fund's Prospectus. All Classes of Shares except A Acc (EUR), I Acc (EUR), S Acc (EUR), I Acc (JPY), S Acc (USD), S Dist (USD), I Acc (USD) Hedged, S Acc (GBP), S Dist (GBP), I Acc (GBP), I Dist (GBP), A Acc (GBP) and A Dist (GBP) are listed on Euro MTF.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

A) PRESENTATION OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The financial statements are prepared in accordance with Luxembourg law and regulations relating to UCITS and generally accepted accounting principles in Luxembourg.

B) COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Combined Financial Statements equal the sum of the financial statements of all Sub-Funds.

The Combined Statement of Assets and Liabilities and Combined Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets are expressed in USD. The currency of all Sub-Funds is USD and therefore there is no currency translation adjustment.

C) VALUATION OF THE INVESTMENTS IN SECURITIES AND MONEY MARKET INSTRUMENTS

The Fund's equity securities are valued based on market quotations or at fair value as determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Board of Directors of the Fund when no market quotations are available or when market quotations have become unreliable.

Market values for equity securities are determined based on the last sale price on the principal (or most advantageous) market on which the security is traded. If a reliable last sale price is not available, market values for equity securities are determined using the mean between the last available bid and ask price. Securities are valued through valuations obtained from a commercial pricing service or at the most recent mean of the bid and ask prices provided by investment dealers in accordance with the Fund's Pricing Policies.

Securities that trade in over-the-counter markets, including most debt securities (bonds), may be valued by other thirdparty vendors or by using indicative bid quotations from dealers or market makers, or other available market information.

Events affecting the value of foreign investments may occur between the time at which they are determined and the Fund's valuation point of 2:00 p.m. Luxembourg time. When such events occur, each Sub-Fund may apply a modelderived factor, as provided by an independent pricing service, to the closing price of equity securities traded on foreign securities exchanges. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Fund may determine not to fair value securities where it believes that the impact of doing so would not have a material impact on the calculation of a Sub-Fund's NAV on that day.

The Board of Directors of the Fund has delegated the fair value analysis and assessment to the Investment Manager's Valuation Committee (the "Valuation Committee"), subject to the Fund's Pricing and Valuation Policy and Procedures (the "Pricing Policies"). The Fund has retained third-party pricing services that may be utilized by the Valuation Committee under circumstances described in the Pricing Policies to provide fair value prices for certain securities held by the Fund. To propose the fair value price of the suspended securities, the Valuation Committee may use techniques such as analysis of the price movements of selected proxies / indices whose performance might indicate valuation changes of the suspended securities.

When fair value pricing is used, the prices of securities used by a Sub-Fund to calculate its Net Asset Value differ from quoted or published prices for the same securities for that day. All fair value determinations are made subject to the Board of Directors of the Fund's oversight.

D) NET REALIZED GAIN/(LOSS) ON SALES OF INVESTMENTS AND CHANGE IN UNREALIZED GAIN/(LOSS) ON INVESTMENTS

Net realized gain or loss on sales of investments are calculated on the basis of first in first out cost method of the investments sold. At period end, holdings in securities have been valued at their last available prices on the main market for the relevant security. The net realized gain or loss and net change in unrealized gain or loss are included within the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

E) FORWARD CURRENCY EXCHANGE CONTRACTS

A forward currency exchange contract is an agreement to buy or sell a specific amount of foreign currency at a certain rate, on or before a certain date. Outstanding forward currency exchange contracts are valued at forward market rates for the remaining period from valuation date to the maturity of the contracts.

Forward foreign exchange contracts will be valued by reference to the price at which a new forward contract of the same size and maturity could be undertaken.

The unrealized gain and loss are shown in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities under "Unrealized gain on forward currency exchange contracts" and "Unrealized loss on forward currency exchange contracts."

Net realized gain/(loss) and net change in unrealized gain/(loss) as a result thereof are included in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets under "Net realized gain/(loss) on forward currency exchange contracts" and "Net change in unrealized gain/(loss) on forward currency exchange contracts," respectively.

F) CONVERSION OF FOREIGN CURRENCIES

The books and records of the Fund are maintained in USD.

Transactions denominated in foreign currencies are recorded at the current prevailing exchange rates on the transaction date. All assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into USD at the exchange rate as at 30 September 2024.

Conversion gains or losses resulting from changes in the exchange rate during the period and realized gains and losses on the settlement of foreign currency transactions are reported in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets for the current period.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of gains and losses on investments in equity securities that are due to changes in the foreign exchange rate from those that are due to changes in market prices of equity securities.

The accounting records and the financial statements of each Sub-Fund are expressed in USD.

Bank accounts, other net assets and market value of the investments in securities expressed in currencies other than the currency of a Sub-Fund are converted at the exchange rates prevailing on the date of the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Income and expenses in currencies other than the currency of a Sub-Fund are converted at the rate of exchange prevailing at the transaction date.

Net realized gain and loss on foreign exchanges and net change in unrealized gain and loss on foreign exchanges represent: (i) foreign exchange gains and losses from the sale and holding of foreign currencies; (ii) gains and losses between trade date and settlement date on securities transactions and (iii) gains and losses arising from the difference between amounts of dividends and interest recorded and the amounts actually received.

G) COST OF INVESTMENTS IN SECURITIES

Cost of investments in securities in currencies other than the currency of a Sub-Fund is converted into the Sub-Fund's currency at the exchange rate applicable at purchase date. Cost of Investments is calculated using first in first out method.

H) INCOME

Interest income is accrued on a daily basis and may include the amortization of premiums and accretions of discounts. Bank and time deposits interest income are recognized on an accrual basis.

Dividends are credited to income on the date upon which the relevant securities are first listed as 'ex dividend' provided that the amount of a dividend is known with reasonable certainty.

I) FEE WAIVER

The Investment Manager may, for such time as it considers appropriate, choose to waive all or part of the fees that it is entitled to receive, or to reimburse a Sub-Fund for other expenses, in order to reduce the impact such fees and expenses may have on the performance of the Share Class. The Investment Manager will reimburse on a monthly basis the amount of the fee waiver or expense reimbursement to the respective Sub-Fund. Fees that have been previously waived and expenses that have been previously reimbursed may be recovered by the Investment Manager.

The waived fees are settled monthly on a net basis with management and administration fees and therefore they are presented as one line item in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities under "Management fees and administration fees payable."

The amounts of the fees waived for the current period is separately disclosed as "Fees Waived and Expenses Reimbursed" in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets.

J) USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

14. SWING PRICING

The Board of Directors of the Fund implemented a price adjustment policy in order to protect the interests of the Fund's Shareholders. The purpose of the price adjustment policy is to allocate the costs associated with large inflows and outflows to investors transacting that day, thereby protecting the long-term Shareholders from the worst effects of dilution. It achieves this purpose by adjusting the price at which deals in a Sub-Fund are transacted. In other words, Sub-Funds' prices may be adjusted up (when there are large net capital inflows) or down (when there are large net capital outflows) depending on the level and type of investor transactions on a particular day. In this way the existing and remaining Shareholders do not suffer an inappropriate level of dilution. The Fund will only trigger an adjustment in the price when there are net capital flows.

The Board of Directors of the Fund have applied partial swing pricing method for the period. Accordingly, rather than setting a single swing threshold with a single swing factor for each Sub-Fund, the Board of Directors of the Fund has chosen to deploy a more refined approach, with multiple thresholds and multiple factors. The application of swing pricing, the thresholds and factors may vary from Sub-Fund to Sub-Fund. If on any Valuation Day the aggregate transactions in Shares of a Sub-Fund result in a net increase or decrease of Shares which exceeds such threshold preset by the Board of Directors from time to time for that Sub-Fund (relating to the cost of market dealing for that Sub-Fund), the Net Asset Value of the Sub-Fund will be adjusted by an amount not exceeding 2% of that Net Asset Value, which reflects both the estimated fiscal charges and dealing costs that may be incurred by the Sub-Fund and the estimated bid/offer spread of the assets in which the Sub-Fund invests. Once an adjustment is made to the price, that price is the official price for that Sub-Fund for all deals that day.

Effective as of 10 August 2020, the Board of Directors of the Fund determined to only apply an adjustment in the price when there are net capital outflows to a Sub-Fund.

During the period ended 30 September 2024, Asia ex Japan Total Return Equity Fund, China Total Return Equity Fund, Pacific Tiger Fund, China Fund, India Fund, Asia Discovery Fund and China Discovery Fund have applied swing pricing.

Upon request, the Fund will also provide investors the impact of swing pricing on a day in which that investor has transacted, with an appropriate lag before such information is provided. Investors should be aware that the Board of Directors of the Fund may change the swing thresholds and swing factors at any time without notice to investors, so the information provided may not be indicative of the impact that swing pricing may have on future transactions in the shares of the Sub-Fund.

A periodic review is undertaken in order to verify the appropriateness of swing factor being applied.

17. ADDITIONAL RISK FACTORS

Investments in securities of Emerging Market and Asia Pacific countries, which may include frontier markets, involve investment risks. These risks include possible political, economic, social and religious instability; inadequate investor protection; changes in laws or regulations of Emerging Market or Asia Pacific countries where the Funds may invest; international relations with other nations; natural disasters; corruption; and military activity. These securities may trade in securities markets that are substantially smaller, less developed, less liquid and more volatile than the major securities markets in more developed countries. These securities may be subject to greater fluctuations in price than securities of companies or governments from more developed countries. Investing in Emerging Market and Asia Pacific countries may also include the risk of expropriation or confiscatory taxation, limitation on the removal of funds or other assets, currency crises and exchange controls, the imposition of foreign withholding tax on the interest income payable on such instruments, the possible seizure or nationalization of foreign deposits or assets, or the adoption of other foreign government restrictions that might adversely affect the foreign securities held by the Fund. Additionally, Emerging Market and Asia Pacific countries may utilize formal or informal currency exchange controls or "capital controls" that may limit the ability to repatriate investments or income or adversely affect the value of portfolio investments. The economies of many Emerging Market and Asia Pacific countries differ from the economies of more developed countries in many respects, such as their rate of growth, inflation, capital reinvestment, resource self-sufficiency and dependence on other economies, financial system stability, the national balance of payments position and sensitivity to changes in global trade.

Certain Emerging Market and Asia Pacific countries are highly dependent upon and may be affected by developments in the economies of other countries. Companies in Emerging Market and Asia Pacific countries are subject to different accounting, auditing, and financial reporting standards, practices, and requirements than companies from more developed countries. There is generally less government regulation of stock exchanges, brokers, and listed companies abroad than in more developed countries, which may result in less transparency with respect to a company's operations and make obtaining information about them more difficult (or such information may be unavailable).

Among other risks of investing in Emerging and Asia Pacific markets, and other frontier markets in which the Fund may invest are the variable quality and reliability of financial information and related audits of companies. In some cases, financial information and related audits can be unreliable and not subject to verification. Auditing firms in some of these markets are not subject to independent inspection or oversight of audit quality. For example, China does not allow the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board to inspect the work that auditors perform in China for Chinese companies that sell stock into U.S. markets. This can result in investment decisions being made based on flawed or misleading information.

Emerging and Asia Pacific stock markets, and other frontier markets may not be as developed or efficient as those in more developed markets, and the absence of negotiated brokerage commissions in certain countries may result in higher brokerage fees. The time between the trade and settlement dates of securities transactions on foreign exchanges ranges from one day to four weeks or longer and may result in higher custody charges. Custodial arrangements may be less well developed than in more developed markets. Emerging Market and Asia Pacific including other frontier markets securities are generally denominated and pay distributions in foreign currencies, exposing the Fund to changes in foreign currency exchange rates. Investing in any such country will also entail risks specific and unique to that country, and these risks can be significant and change rapidly.

Changes in interest rates in each of the countries in which the Fund may invest, as well as interest rates in more developed countries, may cause a decline in the market value of an investment. Generally, fixed income securities will decrease in value when interest rates rise and can be expected to rise in value when interest rates decline. As interest rates decline, debt issuers may repay or refinance their loans or obligations earlier than anticipated.

The Fund may invest in certain operating companies in China through legal structures known as variable interest entities ("VIEs"). In China, ownership of companies in certain sectors by foreign individuals and entities (including U.S. persons and entities such as the Fund) is prohibited. In order to facilitate foreign investment in these businesses, many Chinese companies have created VIEs. In such an arrangement, a China-based operating company typically establishes an offshore shell company in another jurisdiction, such as the Cayman Islands. That shell company enters into service and other contracts with the China-based operating company, then issues shares on a foreign exchange, such as the New York Stock Exchange. Foreign investors hold stock in the shell company rather than directly in the China-based operating company. This arrangement allows U.S. investors to obtain economic exposure to the China-based company through contractual means rather than through formal equity ownership.

VIEs are a longstanding industry practice and well known to officials and regulators in China; however, VIEs are not formally recognized under Chinese law. Recently, the government of China provided new guidance to and placed restrictions on China-based companies raising capital offshore, including through VIE structures. Investors face uncertainty about future actions by the government of China that could significantly affect an operating company's financial performance and the enforceability of the shell company's contractual arrangements. It is uncertain whether Chinese officials or regulators will withdraw their implicit acceptance of the VIE structure, or whether any new laws, rules or regulations relating to VIE structures will be adopted or, if adopted, what impact they would have on the interests of foreign shareholders. Under extreme circumstances, China might prohibit the existence of VIEs, or sever their ability to transmit economic and governance rights to foreign individuals and entities; if so, the market value of the Fund's associated portfolio holdings would likely suffer significant, detrimental, and possibly permanent effects, which could result in substantial investment losses.

As at 30 September 2024

Due to the Russian invasion of Ukraine, sanctions have since been imposed on Russia and certain of its citizens and financial infrastructure entities, including the exclusion of Russia from the SWIFT global payments network. As a result of these sanctions and countermeasures by Russia, the sale and/or purchase of Russian securities to/by US persons is prohibited and sales of certain Russian securities to non-US persons may also be prohibited. Due to these measures, Russian and Russianrelated securities have since suffered significant declines in value. The ongoing conflict has the potential to adversely impact global economies and increase volatility across markets. The duration of the Russian-Ukraine conflict and its effect on financial markets cannot be determined with certainty. The Fund's performance could be negatively impacted if the value of a portfolio holding were harmed by these and such other events. Management is actively monitoring these events. As of September 30, 2024, the Russian positions held across the Matthews Asia Funds have been valued near zero.

The Israel-Hamas war, which began in October 2023, has resulted in significant loss of life and increased volatility in the Middle East, and there is a risk that the war could spread within the region. The conflict between Israel and Hamas and the involvement of the U.S. and other countries could present material uncertainty and risk with respect to the Fund's performance and ability to achieve its investment objective. The extent and duration of the military action and any market disruptions are impossible to predict but could be substantial.

² The Portfolio Turnover Ratio is calculated in accordance with the CSSF Circular 03/122 i.e. the aggregated sales and purchases less aggregated subscriptions and redemptions, divided by average net assets of the period. The portfolio turnover ratio may be negative as a result of shareholder transactions exceeding the investment transactions for the accounting period/year.
